

Customer Area Domination Stories

Story #1

Mike - Started w/ just one listing (OPP) on the West coast in the fall of 2010. Like you, he was skeptical. The bottom line was that he believed we could not deliver what we offered because he owns a computer repair service and the targeted market was not as lush as say a plumbing company.

He took a chance and started to receive new customers after just a few months! He was so excited to have a steady flow of customers and income for the first time in over 4 years. This financial gain allowed him to expand his business listing in another city for the opportunity to receive even more customers. As a result, he hired additional employees to keep up with the computer service requests.

He wanted to invest in more advertising with us and his online services expanded to include multiple local listings and numerous AdWord campaigns for complete area saturation and domination! He currently receives over 180 calls a month from customers needing their computers repaired. As a result, Mike has opened several stores and created the company he could only dream of...and now it's a reality!

Melessa – owns a hair design studio on the East coast. She started in 2011 with just one listing and thanks to us directing her preferred client type; she now has listings in Beverly Hills and soon to be Los Angeles. She asked us to create her company branding because she has started her own hair care line as a result of a steady income. She currently has an e-commerce website, and numerous Adword campaigns and 8 local listings on the East and West coasts that receive over 700 calls a month from customers needing her services. She wants to dominate the hair care and weave industry and we can accomplish this for her!

Isaac – owns a moving company on the East coast. He started with just one local listing in 2010 and has 45 additional listings to date for complete area domination! He currently receives over 500 moving calls a month. Without our service, his customer base was next to none. He is now able to track his continued growth results on a monthly basis and loves the attention to detail customer service provides him. He trusts that anything we suggest will be the best solution for his business because of our proven track record. Isaac will be a customer for life. He is willing to continually invest in our partnership because the new business he gains offsets the minimal pricing by a landslide!
